World Book Day 8th March

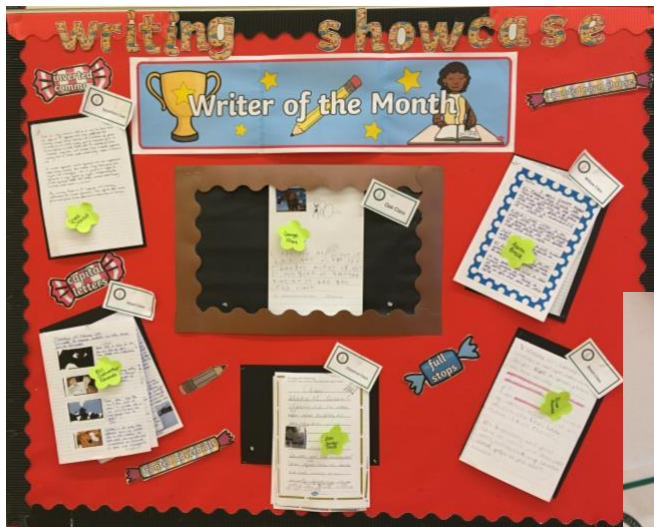

Dear Parents and Carers

Read in February

Well, no surprise... WILLOW CLASS won! And what a super effort. An extra special treat for the class is on the way! Well done Miss Ruby and Mrs Fee. Let's keep reading and make an even greater effort for the next competition in APRIL when we will be adding a different challenge to the reading task. Let's see who wins in April! Watch this space.

Word Wall

The word wall outside my office has grown and will be staying put. We are going to now create a wall in each classroom so please keep finding new and exciting words to use in your writing. Well done to the winners of this little competition. We hope you enjoy the prizes!

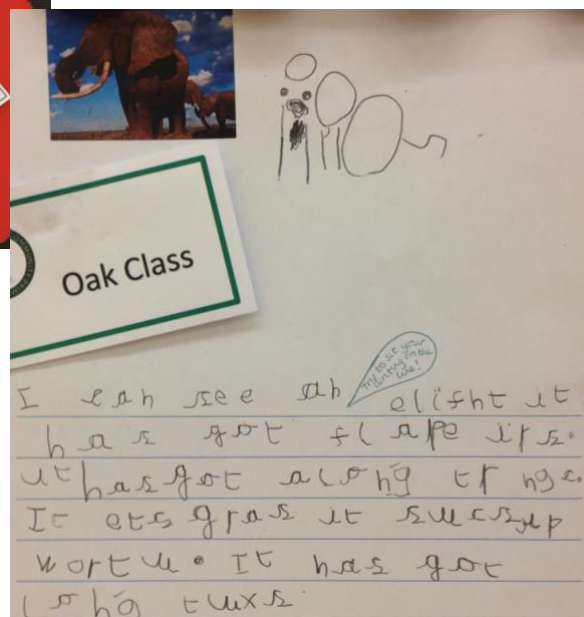

Writer of the Month

Today we had a special assembly dedicated to February's Writer of the Month competition. It was great to see all of the proud parents and guests applauding our budding writers.

We are all very proud of their achievements, and look forward to even greater things to come! Our overall winner was George from Oak Class with a magnificent piece of writing. Well done George! Mr Swait, our visitor this week, was also impressed and could see the progress we are making in driving up our writing standards.

Don't forget to join us on the next Open Morning to see all this hard work for yourselves.

Book Fair

SCHOLASTIC Book Fair has arrived!

Wednesday 27th February – Wednesday 6th March.

FONTS are busy every morning and every night. The response so far has been tremendous – as of today book sales have exceeded £900.

I must just also mention that the local library are very impressed with the amount of new visitors from our school community. Let's keep it up and remember – the library is FREE!!!

THANK YOU FONTS. Without your support this would not be possible.
